Union Week

Gerry Morrissey, Broadcasting Union chief is at Prospect Union Week stall BT Centre, ground floor café Thursday 19th October Middy-2pm

As telecoms and media converge and content meets broadband, smart phones and Wi-Fi, stop by and have a chat with Gerry Morrissey the Head of BECTU, the Broadcasting, Entertainment and Cinema trade union, that is part of Prospect.

Discover what working life is like in the wider world of content and broadcasting, and how trade unions effectively represent people there and in BT!

BT Centre isn't the only event in union week. There are others throughout the UK. All welcome, just walk up!

Check your Performance

Most people reading this newsletter should have had their H1 performance rating. If its 'good work' or better, fine. If however it's 'work to do' you do indeed have work to do:

- 1] Let Prospect know (contact details below)
- 2] Check Prospect's advice on the H1 rating. It's been mailed to members and it's on the website
- 3] Challenge your rating if its 'work to do' unless there are particular reasons why this is not appropriate (discuss these with Prospect first, see Step 1)

Pay & Pensions

Discussions with BT continue on both of these key issues. Keep an eye out for member's comms on both over the next few weeks.

Prospect is determined both to protect members interests and to make progress in both areas.
