Notes:

* The rates quoted above are applicable to the named programme only. Should the BBC directly employ this role on other CDS in the future then consideration will need to be given to the appropriate rate at that time and will be discussed with BECTU as per our freelance agreement.

Rates above are minimum weekly freelance rates. If individuals are employed on Schedule E basis (ie where tax is deducted at source by the BBC) then individuals will be covered by an individual buy out contract with the BBC and so different rates will apply.

These rates are not applicable to Series and Serials productions or trainee roles.

Rates above are minimum weekly rates and relate to an eleven day working fortnight based on eleven hour filming days (or five day working weeks based on twelve hour filming days).

Normal working day is inclusive of the first meal break.

Equipment costs not included.
