

WHAT'S IN STORE?

It's Been a Long Time!

During 2009, Prospect launched a retail recruitment drive in mobile retail stores to highlight the benefits of joining a Union, and that there is a union recognition agreement for Prospect to negotiate and represent staff working in O₂ retail grades (RCGS10/RCGS1/RCGS20/RCGS30).

Also, as retail stores are isolated from main Telefonica/O₂ sites, we also visited a vast number of the retail premises in key cities, towns and shopping centres to give staff the opportunity to meet Prospect representatives.

Over the two year period of visits the Union grew its membership across O₂ mobile retail, including Vodafone, Three and Orange/T-Mobile transforming to EE. We hope to continue regular communications to O₂ retail staff through the What's in Store newsletter alongside regular Prospect e-communications to give you a more retail feel to What's in Store in O₂!

Uniforms

Apart from the double denim dilemma! Retail staff have been reporting poor quality of denim shirts provided to wear in store. The most common issue is that the buttons keep coming off and staff are having to brush up on their haberdashery skills! Let us know if you're having any specific issues?!

Also, did you know that you may be able to reclaim a tax rebate for cleaning your own uniform? Prospect has partnered with tax refund specialists to help calculate and refund any monies that could be owed to you. Members can get further information at: www.prospect.org.uk/member-benefits

Handset Thefts

Prospect has had reports of an alarming rate of handset thefts from O₂ retail stores in recent months. Cases have ranged from individual thefts to organised gangs targeting stores. We've heard of incidents of extreme violence in attempts to steal handsets, which have included physical violence with staff being punched and kicked. This has left some colleagues being rightfully worried about coming to work.

Prospect representatives have raised this with the Company and new clamps have been rolled out to stores since. We are still hearing of incidents, although we understand that incident reports to the Company have reduced. Please get in touch with your Prospect representatives if you have any ongoing concerns.

Colleagues who have worked in stores over the last decade maybe aware of a yearlong campaign that Prospect ran to highlight safety in retail stores to staff and members. The Respect in Retail campaign had the backing of the Suzy Lamplugh Trust and Sir Alex Ferguson at the time.

For personal safety advice, please visit the Suzy Lamplugh website at: www.suzylamplugh.org

Retail Support

Prospect representatives have been hearing of ongoing issues with retail staff contacting Retail Support, which was outsourced to South Africa by Capita in recent years. We've been hearing of issues getting through, lack of accountability, logging of call records and follow up. If you have experienced recent incidents, please send feedback to whatsinstore@prospect.org.uk
