

BT location strategy

Does your office have a future?

BT's recent announcements on future location plans, known as the Better Workplace programme, has understandably caused concern among members – particularly those who work in small and remote sites or from home.

As well as reducing the office estate, the company has announced plans to refurbish existing buildings and establish new sites that are fit for the 21st century. Prospect welcomes this part of the strategy and we will work with the business to create a first class working environment for our members.

BT remains committed to rationalising its office footprint in the UK from around 300 locations to around 30 over the next few years. The business has announced an initial nine locations where it will be based, but the remaining sites are still to be confirmed.

Prospect is holding regular and constructive meetings with the business on this programme, and will be on hand to support members who are affected by this huge change in the way the company operates.

Until BT clarifies exactly which locations it wishes to move to or retain, nobody should assume that their current work location is safe – however big, prestigious or important that location appears to be.

If you are not yet a member, please bear in mind that we will not be able to support you if you join after your office closure is announced.
